Dear Colleagues,

We would like to invite you to take part in a workshop hosted by the Woods Hole Research Center and sponsored by the Moore Foundation. Entitled, "Integrating Disturbance Data," the workshop's intent is to bring researchers, who are gathering field data on simulations of drought, fire and logging experiments, together with modelers.

The meeting will take place on October 5 - 6, 2010, at the Woods Hole Research Center in Falmouth, MA. Funding for travel and accommodation expenses is being provided by the Moore Foundation.

Please reply by July 30, to Carla Barger (cbarger@oeb.harvard.edu). If you cannot attend the workshop please suggest an alternative representative. If you have any questions you may contact Carla Barger (cbarger@oeb.harvard.edu) at Harvard University, or Wendy Kinglerlee (wkinglerlee@whrc.org) at Woods Hole Research Center. We are finalizing accommodations and will have logistical information available shortly.

We believe that your presence at this meeting will improve the dialogue and outcomes and we look forward to your participation.

Sincerely,

Michael Coe
